Terms of Service

Terms of Service

These Terms govern your access to Vibseek's current products: Vibseek Samples, Vibseek Studio, and Vibseek MusicMapper.

Last updated: May 11, 2026

This is an earlier version of our Terms, published on May 11, 2026. It is kept for reference and no longer applies to new purchases. Read the current Terms.

- a cloud-based experience for curated sample discovery, listening, and downloads.
- local software that runs on your device and is designed to work alongside your DAW.
- local software that runs on your device for music-related workflow and exploration features.

- You may use the products only for lawful purposes and in compliance with applicable laws, regulations, and third-party rights.
- You may not reverse engineer, interfere with, disrupt, or attempt unauthorized access to Vibseek systems except where mandatory law clearly permits it.
- You may not upload, transmit, or submit harmful code, malware, or unlawful material to Vibseek.
- You remain responsible for your creative decisions, your local files, your backups, and the lawful use of any content you create with or alongside Vibseek products.

- resell, sublicense, or redistribute raw sample files;
- rehost, mirror, upload, or share the downloaded files as a standalone library, pack, or competitive product;
- claim ownership over Vibseek's original sample files as such; or
- use the content in a way that violates law, third-party rights, or these Terms.

- The software is licensed, not sold.

- You may not copy, resell, rent, lease, sublicense, or make the software available to third parties except as expressly allowed by us in writing.
- You may not remove proprietary notices or use the software in a way that breaches export controls, sanctions laws, or applicable platform rules.
- We may suspend, revoke, or change access to beta builds, preview features, or related services if necessary for security, maintenance, or product changes.

- AI-assisted outputs, categorizations, or recommendations may be incomplete, incorrect, or unsuitable for your specific use case.
- You remain responsible for reviewing and validating any output, sample choice, workflow suggestion, or project decision.
- Vibseek may update, retrain, replace, or remove experimental features without notice.

- We do not warrant uninterrupted availability, compatibility across every operating system, DAW, plugin, hardware setup, or future configuration.
- We do not warrant that the products are error-free, secure, or free from harmful components.
- We do not warrant that any use of the products will preserve files, settings, sessions, sample libraries, or project data.
- You are responsible for maintaining backups and protecting your local files, software environment, and hardware setup.
